Tigges Farm Produce Stand

The Produce Stand was a “dream” of Mary Tigges, owner from 1963 to 2008 and wife of 2nd generation owner/farmer, Robert Tigges. She wanted to operate a vegetable stand since a child. The produce stand was a dream come true.

In 1987 the produce stand became a reality with the help of her son, Ken Tigges, now 3rd generation owner. The building that had been a sheep barn, a chicken coop, a pig barn, a storage building (to name a few of its historical uses) was transformed into a vegetable stand. Just the wood structure part of the building still retains its roots and country charm with dried gourds hanging from the unpainted wood rafters. In the 1990’s the stand was expanded to the east and a shelter was added. In 2008 Mary Tigges passed away. Kathy Rickart, Ken Tigges and Gale Loeffler (L-R her children), partnered to keep the dream alive.

In 2008-09 the stand was remodeled to include a “Gathering Place” (break and meal room), a handicap accessible public restroom and more space to expand the gift shop. In 2013 the Activities Center was added. If you want to host a reunion, a company appreciation day or birthday party reserve the Activities Center. Just call 970-576-8970. No charge, donations accepted. We’ll put in a good word for nice weather - but no guarantees. In 2017 a large greenhouse was added.

The roadside stand features fresh produce with 98% grown on the farm. What isn’t grown on the farm is mostly purchased locally. Chilies, peppers, tomatoes, onions, garlic, sweet corn, cucumbers, pie baking pumpkins and many varieties of squash are available during harvest season.

Tigges Farm is a produce partner in the Colorado Farm to School Program with Greeley/Evans Weld County School District 6.

Fresh Roasted Chilies

The vast majority of the chilies sold at Tigges Farm are grown on the farm and picked fresh - as nothing beats farm fresh flavor. You can buy chilies individually or by the bushel. Chilies bought at the farm are fire roasted on site at no additional charge. Roasted “frozen” chilies are also available while supply lasts.

Save yourself the long drive to New Mexico and buy the same variety locally - only difference is they are grown in Colorado and fresher.

Tigges Farm Equipment Museum & Barn Quilt Gallery

Farm Equipment Museum and Antique Tractors

Robert Tigges, owner from 1963 to 86, had his “dream.” He kept the old farm equipment as he felt it belonged in a museum. In 2011 that dream came to life. Equipment was put on display at the farm. Old tractors are kid climbing friendly.

The Barn Quilt Gallery began in 2013. Artist are co-managers, Kathy Rickart & Gale Loeffler. Each wood painted block shares some Tigges Farm family history.

The stand and pumpkin patch has become a true family affair with family members of all ages volunteering their time and talents to the operation and success.
